

Evolutionary Astrology Mentoring Intensives with Jodie Forrest from Theory to Practice The Composite Chart

Dec 13-14, 2008; 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.; Oakland, CA $280.00 includes light morning snacks and lunch both days.

Have your friends or clients said): * I have to bend relationship. * I feel really at home out of this rut we're in. * We just around him. Do you want to do clients and their partners?

ever said to you (or have YOU ever over backwards to be in this with her. * I don't know how to get clicked. I always feel so energized more helpful readings for your

Do you want to understand the dynamics of your own relationships better? Synastry is the astrology of relationships. Giving an insightful synastry reading is one of the most gratifying experiences an astrologer can have, and receiving one can electrify a relationship. Traditional synastry analysis often begins and ends with comparing two birthcharts. Those comparisons are helpful but incomplete, because every relationship involves a third party, unseen and immaterial yet very potent: the composite chart formed by the two individual birthcharts. A composite chart gives immediate insight into what makes a relationship tick--and the specific experiences that couple needs for their relationship to thrive. Just as a birthchart shows why a person has come into the world and what he or she needs in order to grow, the composite chart shows the couple's karmic trajectory and what their relationship requires in order to flourish. How would these two people have the most fun together? What sorts of friends are best for them? What's their natural communicative style? Their composite chart can tell you all of that and much more. Spend two days learning to understand and use this transformative technique, and watch your readings (and your relationships) improve. Since 1983, Jodie Forrest has maintained a busy practice as an astrological consultant, teacher, writer, editor and publisher. With her husband Steven Forrest, she co-authored Skymates: Love, Sex and Evolutionary Astrology; Skymates II: The Composite Chart; and the text for three synastry report writers. She's the author of the historical fantasy Rhymer trilogy, beginning with The Rhymer and the Ravens. Her latest book is a solo effort, The Ascendant, Seven Paws Press 2007. She's now working on The Naked Eye Planets, slated to appear in late 2009. She lives in southern CA with an uppity cast of her fictional characters and painted bone creatures, several electric basses and two ludicrously spoiled cats. Visit her online at www.jodieforrest.com

Next mentoring intensive in Lakeside, CA, Feb 28-Mar 1, 2009. See www.blueskyranch.org for details